Mail Delay Running Water Not Universal

A postcard from Howard Byers, Route 1, Box 297, Hope:

"I just thought I'd send you another example of the efficiency of our postal service. A letter was mailed to me from Dallas, Texas, July 10. The letter arrived in Sunbury, Pa., July 13. It was postmarked there and arrived in my mail box Monday, July 17—seven days after it left Dallas.

"Why it went to Sunbury, Pa., I'll never know.

"By the way, your paper is much improved. I appreciate that."

I can't honestly hold out hope for improvement of the mail service. We have upcoming on the inside pages one of these days an official announcement of still another organizational shakeup in the postal service.

The repeated postal reorganizing reminds me of that crack originally made about the Pentagon. The military had a reorganization, which caused one colonel to say to another colonel: "Before, we had confusion; now, we have organized chaos."

How could it be otherwise? If a postal man doesn't know where he stands the mail is liable to go anywhere.

From the federal Commission on Rural Water I get this cogent line in a press release:

"There are still more than 20 million rural Americans who lack running water in their homes."

So there is still room for economic expansion in America—untapped business for the manufacturers of motors, pumps, pipes, and bathroom fixtures.

I am one of those who have personally experienced the rise of farm living from carrying pails of water to today's automatic piped water systems.

Originally there was a hand-pump over a dug well in the yard. Then they moved the house over the well and positioned the pump on the back porch. But still there was no bathroom.

About the time I was 12, the farm where we lived from May 1 to Oct. 1—moving to town for the rigors of a Pennsylvania Winter—faced up to the problem of getting piped water. We had no rural electricity, therefore we got piped water the hard way. A concrete reservoir was built up the mountain and a ditch dug for 800 feet of pipe to the house. It was a tough job. In a Pennsylvania Winter the ground freezes 30 inches deep—so the ditch had to be dug below that depth.

Today, with rural electricity, obtaining piped water is easier and less expensive. Automatic pumps keep steel tanks up to a minimum pressure right at the well-head.

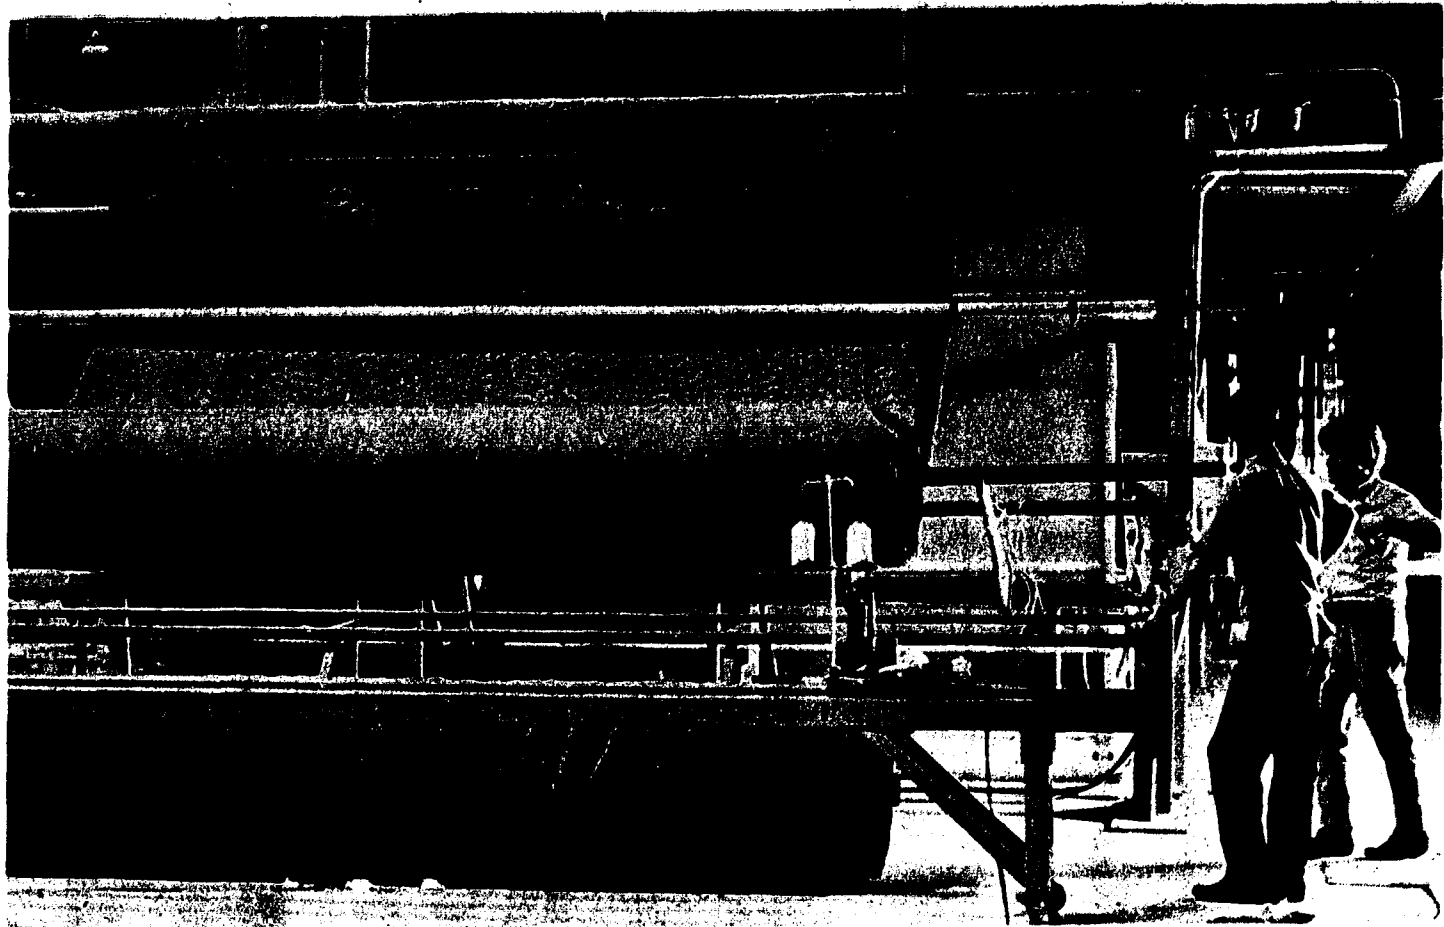

There may be 7 million farm homes still without running water but it's a good gamble the deficiency will be remedied a few years from now.

Unauthorized parking nixed

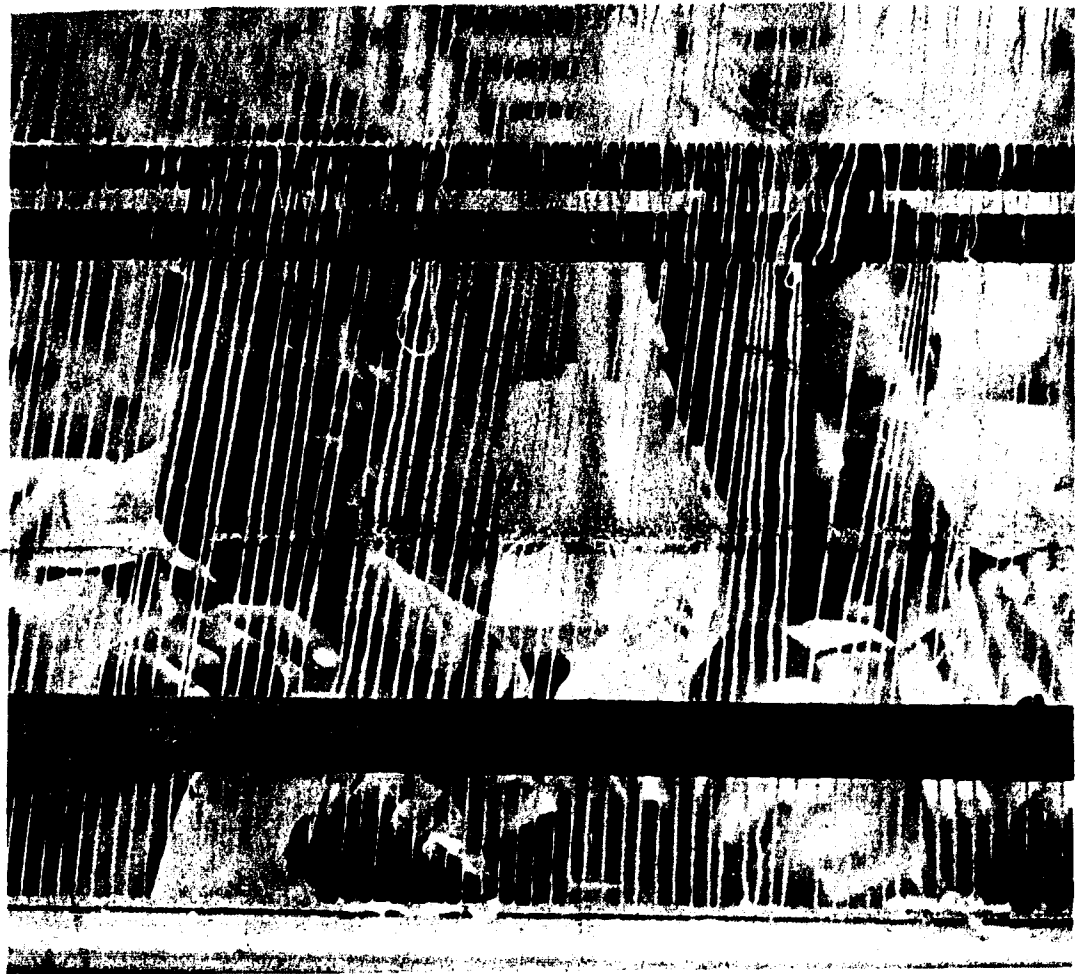

Parking around the school administration building (old Post Office Building) has been permitted during the summer months, but with increased school traffic beginning, "It is impossible to permit unauthorized parking after August 1," Jimmy Jones, school superintendent said.

No action in Paris

Talks continue, split still wide

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam remained split today on the issue of a cease-fire and political settlement for Vietnam despite a new round of secret talks.

There was no indication at the 151st session of the peace conference that the secret rendezvous in Paris Wednesday between Henry A. Kissinger, presidential adviser, and North Vietnamese leaders had made progress in settling the basic issue of who should control power in Saigon.

Debate on the issue of a cease-fire marked much of the argument in the plenary session.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter asked the Communists to say "what is wrong" with President Nixon's May 8 proposal for an internationally supervised cease-fire throughout Indochina.

In another mild speech similar to his new style of last week, Porter asked the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong: "Why not tell us frankly why it is difficult for you to entertain this proposal, which would end the killing promptly?... We would also like to hear more from you on the subject of the four-month period we have proposed for the withdrawal of all our forces from South Vietnam once such a cease-fire has begun and the prisoners of war are released. It appears logical to us to create an atmosphere which would facilitate, not hinder, political discussions among Vietnamese."

The Communists held fast to their position that a political settlement must come with the cease-fire.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, leader of the Viet Cong delegation, said the political and military settlements "should be settled simultaneously."

O'Brien heads 1972 campaign for McGovern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today appointed former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to head his presidential campaign.

The nominee said O'Brien will be given a role concerned with unifying the support of Democrats and other "concerned Americans."

McGovern said O'Brien will be his "national campaign chairman" and in that role "will be a foremost consultant on the over-riding goal which will be to unify the support of key Democrats across the country."

The senator said O'Brien will be his liaison with Democrats in Congress, Democratic governors, mayors, and state legislative leaders.

He said O'Brien will also be his chief contact with officials of the Democratic Party and organized labor.

"Larry O'Brien will be personally and directly involved in all major campaign decisions between now and Nov. 7," McGovern said.

"He will be a principal spokesman for this campaign and I am urging him to travel to every section of the country to speak in support of my candidacy."

McGovern made the O'Brien announcement after his arrival here from South Dakota where he has been vacationing, to cast a pro-labor vote in the Senate following his rejection by top AFL-CIO leaders.

NEW JOB—Lawrence O'Brien, former national chairman of the Democratic Party, today was named to head George McGovern's presidential campaign.

Site of Kennedy shooting burned, arson is blamed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Texas School Book Depository, Lee Harvey Oswald's perch in the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy, was damaged by fire today and authorities labeled it arson.

Investigators said gasoline cans were found on three floors of the seven-story building, and gasoline had been poured throughout the brick and wood structure.

Damage was confined to the upper three floors.

The effect on the sixth floor room from which the shots that killed Kennedy were fired was not immediately known.

The blaze was discovered shortly before 10 a.m. by a workman who entered the building. It was extinguished about 30 minutes later.

The building has been under controversy lately.

The School Book Depository company moved some time after the 1963 shooting of Kennedy and then-Texas Gov. John Connally and the building was sold.

The purchaser was Aubrey Mayhew of Nashville, Tenn., who opened the lobby to visitors. He did not open the upper part of the building from where the Warren Commission said the fatal shots were fired.

The sale was by D. Harold Byrd, wealthy Dallas businessman and majority owner in the Dallas Trust Corp. which owned the building. The structure sold for $650,000.

Byrd said two weeks ago that Mayhew was six months behind in mortgage payments.

Scores of persons from throughout the United States visit the building daily.

Vice president to visit state

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — A spokesman for former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday night that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be in Arkansas Aug. 4 to visit Rockefeller and his "other friends" in the state.

The spokesman said that the only thing tentative was the time when Agnew would arrive at Rockefeller's farm on Petit Jean Mountain.

Earlier, it was reported that Agnew would meet with top Republican leaders in the state, but the spokesman said the Vice President's office reported that Agnew's visit was to see his "good friend Win and other friends in Arkansas."

acres and a 75,000-square-foot metal building. At full production capacity 150 persons will be employed. A sculptured high-loop pattern, shag, and the new "splush" type will be manufactured. In the manufacturing process, yarn is first tufted into a primary jute backing, dyed in steam-heated liquid dye, and dried in a specially-designed oven.

The 247-foot long oven is designed to dry the carpet, apply latex, a secondary jute backing, and a foam backing. Raw materials are brought in from several states with the exception of the jute which is imported from India and Pakistan.

Carpet will be shipped from the mill by truck throughout the southern and southwest region of the U.S. and will be shipped throughout the nation within the next two years. Spears Carpet Mills, Inc. was organized by Grayson Spears of Hope who organized a similar mill in Lewisville and in Texas. Spears said he expected production the first year to be in excess of 800,000 square yards of finished carpet and first year sales to exceed $2,400,000.

Eagleton is not quitting attempt to sway Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas Eagleton says he hasn't given up trying to convince George Meany to back the Democratic presidential ticket and is sure most workers will vote for it anyway.

Eagleton, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, reacted to Meany's decision Wednesday to keep the AFL-CIO neutral in the race between Sen. George McGovern and President Nixon by announcing he is broadening his search for labor support.

He vowed to go down the list of organized labor and seek the endorsements of individual labor chieftains.

"I'm excluding none and including all," he said.

And he said of Meany: "I'm not going to give up hope until Mr. Meany tells me to my face categorically and with absolute finality that under no circumstances could he ever support the McGovern-Eagleton ticket against President Nixon."

Bulletin

WASHINGTON AP — The Senate today rejected 47 to 46 President Nixon's proposal that the $1.60 an hour minimum wage be raised to $2 rather than the $2.20 supported by Democrats.

Fencesitting art: Meany wields brush on political canvas

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, steering the AFL-CIO to a fencesitting position of neutrality in the presidential campaign, showed he is still firmly in command of the nation's House of Labor and a power to be reckoned with in national politics.

"He's invincible," grumbled one union opponent after the 77-year-old Meany led the 35-man AFL-CIO executive council to a 27-3 vote Wednesday against endorsing either Democratic nominee George McGovern or President Nixon.

"I will not vote for either one of them," Meany told a news conference.

"Meany was clam, cool, responsible, effective and well-prepared," said another reluctant admirer on the labor council who had urged endorsement of McGovern as the AFL-CIO has done with every previous Democratic presidential nominee.

Meany has sharply attacked Nixon on economic policies, while reportedly disagreeing with McGovern's views on the Vietnam war.

Meany, who said McGovern was not "good material" for a president, shrewdly avoided a direct vote on whether to endorse McGovern and made it clear the AFL-CIO's 117 affiliated unions and their 13.6 million members were free to do as they wished. This blunted opposition from several McGovern supporters on the labor council.

Typical was President Floyd Smith of the 900,000-member Machinists union, who endorsed McGovern but voted with Meany's position of neutrality for the AFL-CIO.

"Let them do as they like," Meany told a news conference.

AFL-CIO sources said that had the vote been directly on whether to endorse McGovern, the vote would have been virtually split down the middle.

Despite his victory in bending the labor council to his wishes, the issue produced more division in labor's ranks than any in recent memory.

All Around Town

Mrs. Elizabeth Bryson, formerly of Prescott, assistant professor of home economics at Arkansas Tech, has resigned to become educational program coordinator with School Food Service in the Arkansas Department of Education.

Her employment with the State Department of Education will become effective on August 1.

Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will confer an Entered Apprentice degree Friday, July 21, at 7:30 p.m.

In preparing for a class reunion, the class of 1962 of Hope High School is trying to locate the address of Perry Steve Smith. Anyone with information, please contact Bettie Duke at 2358 or 3508.

McGovern moves to offset the labor decision

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern, moving to offset the impact of his rejection by top labor leaders, flew to Washington today to cast a pro-labor Senate vote and unveil former National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien as his chief bridge to party regulars.

He took off from Rapid City Regional Airport after getting up 90 minutes earlier at his retreat near Custer for the one-hour drive here.

Press secretary Richard Dougherty, declining comment on what role O'Brien would play in the McGovern campaign, would say only that the news conference was being scheduled to make "an important political announcement" relating to the campaign.

The major announced reason for McGovern's decision to interrupt his post-convention rest in South Dakota's Black Hills was so he could vote today on an amendment by Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., to cut back on a proposed $2.20-minimum wage measure to the $2 voted by the House. The issue was expected to involve more than one vote and possibly last into the evening.

Letters To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Editor The Star: Most people of America would agree that we need tax reform and that the tax laws should be written in such a manner that at least a few people can understand them. Prior to and during the Democratic convention tax reform was a most popular subject, with most of the political hopefuls advocating reform.

A few weeks back Congressman Mills stated that tax reform should not be considered this year due to it being an election year, although the word is out that Mills and the Ways and Means Committee are preparing a bill called Technical Advancement Act of 1972 which would open up many more "loop-holes" for big business and the influential.

I believe the time has come when the people should speak up and "inform" their representatives in Congress that we expect them to lobby for the people of America instead of the few who exert the most pressure and influence. If a small percentage of voters would take pen in hand and direct their true feelings to Congress the influence of the favored few would be minimized. Sincerely,

DICK LOITZ

U.S. moving in money markets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moving boldly to keep the six-month old international currency agreement from collapsing, the United States has begun intervening directly in the money-exchange markets to prop up the dollar's value.

The Federal Reserve Board, the nation's central bank, started selling German marks and other foreign currencies from U.S. reserves for dollars in foreign exchange markets Wednesday in a sudden departure from its previous monetary policy.

"We are moving to play our part to restore order in exchange markets and to do our part in upholding the Smithsonian agreement as others have done," said a board spokesman in confirming the U.S. action.

Major non-Communists agreed on a new set of money exchange rates last Dec. 18 at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, including the first devaluation of the dollar since 1934 and upward revaluation of other currencies.

But that bargain threatened to fall apart in recent weeks because the British government bailed out and cut its pound sterling loose from the agreed upon exchange rate, floating it against other currencies.

The resulting uneasiness overseas put the dollar under new pressure and several foreign governments, mainly West Germany, were forced to buy dollars to protect the value of their own money and support the Smithsonian agreement.

The United States has never directly intervened in exchange markets. It formerly used its gold stock to settle dollar claims, but President Nixon ended that last Aug. 15. Now, the United States has nothing to convert foreign currencies since the gold window will remain closed until a new monetary system is worked out.

The Federal Reserve Board is doing what other countries have been doing for years to protect their currencies when the money of another country, primarily from speculators, floods in.

The board's gave no estimate on how many marks and other currencies it sold in the first day of intervention Wednesday. The action was carried out by its New York regional bank, the main bank for determining monetary policy.

Dinner honors bank director

The officers and directors of the First National Bank honored Thomas E. Hays Sr. with a dinner at the Hope Country Club on the occasion of his retirement July 1 as a full-time employee of the bank. He served at the bank for 23 years.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Gottwald of Richmond, Va. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orth of Little Rock. Mr. Orth and Mr. Hays started their careers in banking together at the Union National Bank of Little Rock in 1927.

Following 22 years with Union National, Mr. Hays and his family moved to Hope in 1949, and he has been with First National since that time. At the time of his retirement he was Executive Vice President and a director of First National.

He will continue to serve as a director and as a special representative of the bank.

Smoke damage to residence

The Hope Fire Department answered a call at 12:15 today at the Frank Carruth residence on E. Sixth St.

A small fire of undetermined origin was discovered by Mrs. Carruth, the department said. She suffered minor burns on her legs, it was reported.

Minor smoke damage occurred to the residence.

Indeed, Nicholas H. Souchik, Luzerne County's executive director for civil defense, says the flood-stricken sections of the city are now 70 to 75 per cent back onto their feet.

"Not as nice as before," he remarks, "but we're recovering."

Souchik gave this status report:

HOMELESS—The biggest problem. Temporary Red Cross shelters are accommodating about 2,300 persons, with perhaps double that number staying with relatives.

ELECTRICITY—Restored to about 25 per cent of flooded homes.

TELEPHONES—About 75 per cent back.

WATER—Some reports of low pressure, but otherwise not a major problem.

SEWAGE TREATMENT—Still completely out. Sewage is going straight into the river.

Jo Houser speaker at Rotary meeting

Speaking on behalf of the bill to repeal the "full-crew" law for the operation of railroads in Arkansas, Jo Ellen Houser of Ft. Smith, a member of the Shippers' Steering Committee, appeared before the Hope Rotary Club on Friday, July 14 at the Town and Country Rotarian Dorsey McRae introduced the speaker, who explained why the out-dated law served no useful purpose.

"The cost of having a crew of six men instead of four is $12 million a year," she said. "Who pays this additional cost? The consumer, the businessman, the farmer and the manufacturer." This affects the decision of many industrialists regarding the location of their plants, and this, in turn, affects our economy. Operation of a train with the reduced number of men does not make it any less safe, for the modern train does not six men for its operation. She stressed that there would be no penalty against present employees if the act to be voted on in the fall is passed.

President Bob Roberts had charge of the business meeting and welcomed the speaker and one other guest, R.R. Moore.

Building from a disaster

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The dust, the dirt, the filth are still everywhere.

Walk in any low-lying area of this hilly city of 80,000, and you get a choice — depending on whether it's dry or raining — between becoming engulfed with dust that mixes with sweat and pastes clothing to skin, or being slopped with mud.

A full month after one-third of this eastern Pennsylvania city was inundated by floodwaters from tropical storm Agnes, the community retains the appearance of a disaster area.

Lawns, sidewalks, shrubs, walls and just about anything else left standing are blanketed with a coat of tannish grime, the residue of 20-foot flooding by the Susquehanna River.

In the city's well-to-do residential section along Riverside Drive, homes lie scattered. One house sits in the middle of a street, swept there by the waters. Others tilt precariously, their foundations and plumbing innards exposed.

The hub of downtown, a grassy diagonal known as Public Square, is filled with information trailers and Salvation Army food trucks. Of some 50 retail establishments that surround the square, just two — a newsstand and a drug store — have reopened. Heaps of boards, rubble and slime adorn the curbsides.

No doubt about it, Wilkes-Barre looks awful.

And yet ... amidst all this, a bustling spirit of renewal is undeniably in evidence.

A lot of the city's dirt, for example, is encrusted on the arms and faces of people who have determinedly shoveled four to six inches of mud from their floors.

You see the spirit of renewal in the eyes of people like 81-year-old William Jayne, hosing down an old American flag that was defaced when three feet of water lapped into his second floor bedroom on the flood night of June 23.

You see it as well on scores of homes and stores bearing signs that vow, "Rebuild We Will."

Miss Hodges is luncheon honoree

Miss Rebecca Susan Hodges, bride-elect of Otis W. Blackwood, was honored at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. James N. Voss, Fulton, Co-hostess was Mrs. N.B. Coleman.

The table was covered with a cloth brought from Venezuela, a background of white with multi-colored floral designs of hand embroidery, and centered with a crystal bowl holding an arrangement of multi-colored zinnias.

The registry held an arrangement of white carnations and stock and blue straw flowers. Ten guests signed the bride's book. Among the guests were Mrs. Lewis D. Hodges, North Little Rock, and Mrs. Otis A. Blackwood, mothers of the betrothed couple, and Mrs. C.H. Wilson, grandmother of the groom-elect.

The hostesses presented the honoree with kitchen towels and TV trays.

quartet tables. Mrs. Clarence Geist, president of the women's group, presided at the brief business session. She introduced several state-wide candidates or their representatives. Among them were: Jerry Climer of Little Rock, candidate for Secretary of State; John Byrd of Ft. Smith, representing Ken Koon, who is a candidate for Lt. Governor; Don Williamson of Camden, a field representative for the 4th Congressional District.

Guest speaker for the evening was Neal "Sox" Johnson, Executive Secretary of the Arkansas Republican Party. His remarks dealt with ideas that can be used to promote a candidate on the local or state-wide level. He also gave comprehensive background information on each of the Republican candidates and reported briefly on the Republican State Convention held July 15 in Little Rock.

Haskell Jones and Mrs. Lynn Harris, who are in charge of campaigning and fund-raising, passed along information concerning their projects for the months of August, September and October.

Before the meeting adjourned, plans were made for an ice cream supper August 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Aslin in Oakhaven.

As a sauce for a steamed pudding mix together 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup heavy cream and 1/4 cup butter in the top part of a double boiler; cook over boiling water for 15 minutes.

THE GENERATION RAP

The Questions They Ask! Dear Readers: "Agony dames" aren't the only ones who get zany letters. Action Line editors—those local fact finders who help "righten" the lives of wronged subscribers—received their share too.

Here, thanks to Pat Fenner of the St. Petersburg (Florida) Evening Independent, is a compilation of some of the more bizarre questions sent to Action Line editors throughout the country in recent months:

My wife is an extremely poor housekeeper and now she's trying to divorce me. I want you to send a photographer out here to get some pictures of her poor housekeeping. The sooner the better...

Our father is getting along and insists that we bury him in the back yard. Please help... I called the dog catcher six times before he came. He picked up my dog and left all the strays. Is it true that when a person is over 50 the police do not bother to look for them?

You are always picking on landlords. This is unfair to landlords like me who have to put up with a great deal from no good, rotten, low life tenants. If you lived in my apartment building, I would evict you.

Please inform me how to get my valuable papers, deeds, etc., out of my wife's possession. She has them in her room with the door locked all the time. If you call, don't give any information to my wife...

I sent a pair of hot pants to my laundry and they came back burned.

I'm 64 years old and would like to know if there's a chance of me getting diaper rash.

My wife and I went on our honeymoon to Namau. When we got there my wife's luggage was missing. All she had was a tote bag with three pairs of shoes. Needless to say, the first three days of our honeymoon weren't a success as all she did was cry about her lost clothes. We think the airlines should not only pay for the clothes but also for three days of lost honeymoon which never can be recaptured.

I was picked up on the sidewalk by two police officers and they charged me with causing a turmoil. How could I cause a turmoil while sleeping?

They said they would loan you money even if you didn't have any credit. I don't have any credit so I went down there. Then they come up with this thing about having to have a steady job. I think it's false advertising!

I have a worn out television and I would like to give it to some needy family.

I use a lot of bacon for my family and save all the drippings. I use them only to saute onions and liver. Is there anyone who can use them?

Is it cheaper to have a child adopt a parent than the other way around?

I sent away for two pairs of lady's hose. Instead they sent me a hose attachment for a sink faucet...

For years we have jokingly used as a conversation opener the question: What do you think about the price of eggs in China? Now we are beginning to wonder what the price really is.

Some tenants have moved away and left their old bodies. They're sitting out there with no wheels on them...

Miss Gray is shower honoree

Miss Marcia Gray, bride-elect of Kenneth Hunt, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Friday, July 7, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Assembly of God Church. Mrs. Georgia Clark, Brenda Clark, Judy Rexroat, and Mrs. Gladys Stroud were hostesses.

Jessie Williams and Mary Nell Fries were hostesses at a gift shower honoring Miss Gray on July 8.

An August 12 wedding is planned.

GOLF TOURNEY WINNERS

Seven members of the Hope Ladies Golf Association went to the Estridge Country Club in Shreveport July 18 to participate in an Invitational Tournament. Winners included:

Second Flight, Low Gross, Mrs. Albert Bray; 2nd Low Net, Mrs. Emmett Wassell. Fourth Flight, 3rd Low Net, Mrs. Henry Seamans.

Door prizes went to Mrs. Earl Lockett, Mrs. Cecil Delaney, Mrs. Jim Smith and Mrs. L.L. Webb.

PATMOS CLUB MEETS

The Patmos Club met in the home of Mrs. Garland Smith July 13 with eleven members and six guests present.

Mrs. Ferguson gave the devotion and presented the lesson of the duties of women. A lesson of "Food and your weight" was also presented by Mrs. Larry Tullis.

The next meeting is scheduled in September in the Patmos town hall with Mrs. Verdo Hollis as hostess.

GERMS IN THAT CRACKED CROCKERY

LONDON (AP) — Restaurant diners are advised to act as detectives to ensure the food they eat is hygienic. The Association of Public Health Inspectors suggests they keep an eye out for scruffy staff appearance, dirty linen, cracked crockery and greasy utensils. "Behind the facade of an attractive decor and a tempting menu, these small signs may indicate that food in the establishment is unhygienic," the inspectors reported.

Ask consultation, it is no insult

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—You had a letter in your column from a woman who had pernicious anemia. She had been receiving B-12 once a month and had never had a blood test. This reminded me of the problem concerning my mother. She had gone to the doctor for a number of years for pernicious anemia and had received a monthly shot of B-12 but there had been no blood tests or other treatment. She kept getting worse and with much urging she finally went to see my doctor who is a specialist in internal medicine. When he examined her he immediately put her in the hospital and started giving her massive doses of B-12. She responded well and was a new person. My doctor was so distressed with the treatment that she had received that he reported the problem to the county medical association. Apparently this wasn't the first time that this doctor had a problem and eventually his office was vacated.

I tell this story to ask you if you won't stress to your readers that if they are in doubt about the treatment they are receiving to see another doctor. A reputable doctor will not be offended if you ask for another consultation, but if he is, that is the time to make a change. Although 99 per cent of the doctors are reputable there is bound to be a black sheep in the medical profession just as there is in others.

Dear Reader—I don't disagree with your observation. The truth is I have seen very few people who have been canonized in life and this includes doctors. In defending physicians, however, I will say that as a group they are one of the hardest working segments of our society and most of them take their responsibilities quite seriously.

I don't know of many other segments of our society who would permit their private life to be interrupted to the degree that most physicians do or would work the same number of hours, including weekends and holidays and all hours of the night or would, in fact, do as much charity work as many physicians do.

The truth is that most doctors like their patients and they get something out of being able to do something for them. This is not to say that they don't enjoy their income as physicians, but the income doesn't keep them from enjoying the other aspects common to the practice of medicine.

I agree that if a patient is concerned about his treatment he should have a consultation. If nothing else, such attitude on the part of the patient reflects a lack of confidence and it interferes with the normal treatment relationship between the doctor and the patient. The way to solve the problem is to have a consultation and clear the air. Most doctors who are really concerned about how their patient is doing and are for some reason or another uncertain about either the patient's state or what to do for him usually will ask for a consultation from another physician who might be able to help with the problem.

Boston creams Angels 8-2

By TOM EMORY

Rookie Carlton Fisk's star is on the rise but, unfortunately, it's not an All-Star.

The Boston Red Sox catcher is tearing up American League pitching with a .307 batting average and .631 slugging average but he finished with 223,349 votes, fifth in the balloting for the All-Star Game July 25 and 544,189 votes behind Detroit's Bill Freehan, batting .263.

If Fisk hasn't completely convinced the fans he's ready for the annual classic, he's already done the job on California Angels' General Manager Harry Dalton.

"If he played all the time against us," said Dalton, "he'd be in the Hall of Fame five years before he retired."

The 24-year-old backstop blasted a three-run homer as Boston whipped California 8-2 Wednesday. The circuit was his 15th of the season and his fifth in the last nine games.

In other AL baseball games, Cleveland whipped Kansas City 6-1, Chicago edged Detroit 3-2, New York thumped Minnesota 13-3, Texas trimmed Baltimore 3-2 and Oakland beat Milwaukee 9-6.

In the National League, it was St. Louis 6, Houston 0;

Pittsburgh 8, Atlanta 3; Cincinnati 6, Chicago 1; Montreal 3, San Francisco 2; Philadelphia 3, San Diego 2 and Los Angeles 5, New York 0.

Fisk, who also is in the top five in both doubles and triples in the league, wasn't scheduled to start for Boston this season, but when Duane Josephson was injured and Bob Montgomery had throwing problems, Manager Eddie Kasko turned to his rookie.

The victory was Boston's fourth straight. Tommy Haper and Doug Griffin each hit two-run doubles to join Fisk in helping Lynn McGlothen, 3-2, get his complete-game triumph.

Cleveland's Gaylord Perry won his 16th game to tie the Tigers' Mickey Lolich for high in the major leagues. Perry gave up seven singles. Frank Duffy drove in two Indians' runs with three hits while Perry, with two hits had two RBI.

Rick Reichardt slammed two homers and drove in all three Chicago runs. The victory snapped a six-game White Sox losing streak. His second blast broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning. The loss was only the second for Detroit in its last 11 games.

Tiger shortstop Eddie Brinkman set a major-league mark with 57 straight errorless games. His flawless streak began May 21 and has included 261 chances.

Ron Blomberg and Roy White each hit two-run homers as the Yankees pounded Minnesota for 12 hits. New York erupted for seven runs in the fourth, including two driven in by Celino Sanchez' double. Five Twin pitchers were used while Mike Kekich, 9-8, was the Yankee winner with help from Fred Beene.

Dick Billings' single with two outs in the eighth provided the Rangers with the tying and winning runs against Baltimore.

more. Oriole starter Mike Cuellar, 8-8, gave up two walks and committed a throwing error to load the bases for Billings' safety. Ted Ford's eighth homer gave Texas its first run.

Reggie Jackson stroked a bases-loaded, three-run double in Oakland's six-run seventh inning. He finished the game with four RBI as Blue Moon Odom, 9-2, was the winner of his sixth straight. Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the ninth, including two on Mike Ferrero's homer. Ollie Brown also hit a two-run circuit for the Brewers.

MICKEY LOLICH

Mickey Lolich heads All-Star pitchers

BOSTON (AP) — Oakland's Vida Blue, the American League's most valuable player and Cy Young Award winner last year, will be among the missing for the All-Star Game next Tuesday in Atlanta.

Manager Earl Weaver by-passed Blue Wednesday in naming a nine-man staff, headed by southpaw Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers and right-hander Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians.

Also chosen were left-handers Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox, Ken Holtzman of the Oakland Athletics and Dave McNally of the Baltimore Orioles, and right-handers Jim Palmer and Pat Dobson of Baltimore, Nolan Ryan of the California Angels and Jim Hunter of the A's.

Blue, a young sensation last year, got into a bitter salary dispute with Oakland owner Charlie Finley this spring and was a stubborn holdout. He finally agreed to terms in May, but has not been effective, struggling along with a 2-5 record.

Lolich, edged by Blue for top league honors last year, sports a 16-6 record in helping the Tigers in their challenge to Baltimore in the East Division race.

Lolich, McNally (10-7), Palmer (13-4) and Hunter (12-4) have been named to the All-Star team twice previously.

Perry, acquired by Cleveland from the San Francisco Giants during the off-season, was named to the National League All-Star team in 1966 and '70. He has a 15-7 record with the Indians.

Wood (13-10), Holtzman (12-7), Dobson (11-4) and Ryan (11-7) will be making their first All-Star appearances.

Phillies whip Padres 3-2

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Bill Robinson, a seventh-inning replacement, doubled in the winning run in the 11th inning to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 3-2 victory over the San Diego Padres Wednesday night.

Robinson delivered his winning hit off Clay Kirby, 6-10, with Denny Doyle on first base and two out. Doyle had started the rally with a one-out single.

The hit broke a tie that existed since the second inning when the Padres made it 2-2.

Drougas agrees to terms with Colts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Colts can stop worrying about signing their No. 1 pro football draft choice.

Tom Drougas, a 267-pounder who played guard for the University of Oregon, agreed to terms late Wednesday night at the Colts' training camp in Tampa, Fla.

Joe Thomas, Baltimore's new general manager, said Drougas agreed to a multi-year contract. The terms were not disclosed.

Earlier the Colts had signed Boris Shlapak, a placekicker from Michigan State; Reggie Lowe, a defensive end from Los Angeles City College and Ken Frith, a defensive lineman from Northeast Louisiana State who played in Canada last season.

Elsewhere, the Washington Redskins acquired return specialist Alvin Haymond from the Los Angeles Rams for a future draft choice; the St. Louis Cardinals acquired defensive end Bill Atessis from the New England Patriots, also for a future draft choice; and the Oakland Raiders traded an undisclosed future draft choice to the Rams for rookie offensive tackle Jay Anderson.

Running back Duane Thomas finally reported to the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys, passed his physical examination and worked out in full pads.

Defensive end Rod Carpenter of the Cincinnati Bengals suffered cuts above and on the side of his eye during blocking drills. The cuts required 17 stitches and the 6-foot-5 player from North Carolina State will be sidelined for several days.

Bill Peterson of the Houston Oilers was moved from guard to tackle and the Philadelphia Eagles announced a rookie scrimmage with the Redskins in Reading, Pa. on Saturday.

And quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets was given permission to further delay his appearance at camp until Monday.

Travs get drubbed 8-3

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Amarillo erupted for six runs in the seventh inning and handed the Arkansas Travelers an 8-3 drubbing in Texas League play here Wednesday night.

Five of Amarillo's run were unearned. The Travelers committed two costly errors.

Arkansas jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first-inning but Amarillo tied it in the third. The Travelers went ahead again in the fourth but Amarillo's big seventh sacked up the victory.

Bob Forsch, now 7-5, was the loser.

Ali stops Lewis with TKO in 11th

By NOEL HUGHES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — It won't go into the record book as another famous long count—like the one in the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney title fight in 1927—but the Muhammad Ali camp claimed today a mixup in timing saved Ali "Blue" Lewis from a fifth round knockout.

Ali, the former world heavyweight champion from Cherry Hill, N.J., stopped Lewis of Detroit in the 11th round Wednesday night for his seventh straight victory in his comeback campaign, but the fight had looked over in the fifth.

A short right from Ali travelled no more than eight inches and laid Lewis in a twitching heap on the canvas in outdoor Croker Park. The bell sounded the end of the round when the count reached nine.

Later Ali's trainer, Angelo Dundee, claimed that the count actually had lasted for 22 seconds according to his own time-piece.

Dundee made no formal protest, but indeed the timekeeper had found that two of his watches had stopped during the first round and he had to borrow another.

Lending further credence to Dundee's contention was that no exact time was given when referee Lew Eskin of New York stopped the fight in the 11th: It was estimated at 1:15 of the round.

It was the only knockdown of the fight before an estimated crowd of 22,000 as Ali overcame the affects of a heavy head cold that has troubled him for days for his TKO triumph in Ireland's biggest boxing show in years.

"I think I'm fighting far too much and getting a bit stale," said the former champion who is pointing for a return title bout with champion Joe Frazier.

Lewis looked dazed in the dressing room and didn't want to talk with newsmen, but he said "I was pleased with my performance and I would like to fight Ali again."

Ali said he was very pleased with the reception given him by the Irish. He was feted wherever he went, made numerous television appearances, and the newspapers devoted whole pages to his activities.

Ali, who weighed 217½ pounds to Lewis' 233½ for the scheduled 12-round, is scheduled to meet Floyd Patterson, another former world champion, in New York on September 20.

Copromoters Hal Conrad of New York and Bucky Sugrue of Dublin guaranteed Ali $200,000 and Lewis $35,000.

Hockey bidding war reaches new heights

NEW YORK (AP) — The new World Hockey Association is starting to pay off—for National Hockey League players.

The bidding war between the WHA, which has yet to put a team on the ice, and the established NHL reached new heights Wednesday when it was reported that two of the top players of the New York Rangers had been signed by the NHL team to big, multi-year contracts.

Brad Park, long considered the second best defenseman in the NHL behind Boston's Bobby Orr, has signed a five-year $200,000 annual contract with the Rangers, the New York Times reported in its Thursday editions.

In addition, Walt Tkaczuk, a center, signed a multi-year pact calling for $150,000 annually, The Times, in a story by Gerald Eskenazi, reported.

Emile Francis, general manager-coach of the Rangers, goes to Boston today to negotiate with the lawyer for left winger Vic Hadfield.

The Times said Hadfield will probably agree to a $200,000 annual salary even though the WHA had offered $50,000 a year more and a five-year pact.

The annual salaries that Park, Tkaczuk and Hadfield will draw next season will be more than the entire payroll for the 20-man Ranger team two years ago.

While Park may be considered No. 2 to Orr in defense, he's now No. 1 in salary. Orr, signed before the WHA cranked up, is getting $180,000 annually.

Francis would not confirm the signings of Park and Tkaczuk, saying, "We never announce who we sign."

The NHL found out that the WHA meant business when the new league lured away longtime Chicago Black Hawks' star Bobby Hull earlier this summer.

The reported WHA offer to Hadfield, a total of a million dollars over five years, would be funded in the same fashion the new league is paying Hull—an assessment against each team.

Hull went to the WHA's Winnipeg Jets as player-coach in a 10-year $2.75-million deal. The other WHA teams are chipping in more than a million dollars to help defray the costs.

Parade is protested

TEL AVIV (AP) — The word hasn't reached Munich yet, but already Israel's Olympic team is embroiled in a religious squabble over the closing ceremony of the 1972 Games.

The national religious party has protested against the team marching in the closing parade, which falls on the Jewish Sabbath and Rosh Hashana, the New Year of the Jewish calendar.

'Red Machine' moves into league lead

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Tired of hearing about the Big Red Machine? Pete Rose isn't tired of talking about it.

"We've got the name," says the Cincinnati Reds outfielder. "We've got guys who can hit the ball out of the park. We hit and run, we steal ... we've got pitchers who can pitch and we've got a bullpen."

Because of all those things, the Reds also have the lead in the National League West. They fattened it to six games Wednesday after whipping the Chicago Cubs 6-1.

Despite all the recent success, though, Cincinnati isn't a replica of the well-known "Machine" that won the league pennant in 1970. That version ran on pure power while this year's model is built for speed.

In the other National League games, the Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the Atlanta Braves 8-

3; the St. Louis Cardinals stopped the Houston Astros 6-0; the Montreal Expos trimmed the San Francisco Giants 3-2; the Philadelphia Phillies took a 3-2 decision from the San Diego Padres in 11 innings and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 5-0.

American League results: Boston 8, California 2; New York 13, Minnesota 3; Oakland 9, Milwaukee 6; Cleveland 6, Kansas City 1; Texas 3, Baltimore 2 and Chicago 3, Detroit 2.

Bobby Tolan, one of the heroes in Cincinnati's pennant-winning season two years ago, delivered a tie-breaking single with two out in the sixth to help Wednesday's triumph. Tony Perez, also a member of the 1970 blasters, drove in two runs with a single and double.

"We got it all," said Rose, with obvious visions of pennants dancing in his head.

The East's version of the "Machine"—the Pirates—meanwhile, continued to hit on all cylinders. Gene Alley, Willie Stargell and Richie Hebner each drove in two runs to lead their triumph over Atlanta and build their East lead to six games.

Somewhat overshadowed in the show of Pirate power was Hank Aaron's accomplishment. The Braves' fine outfielder smashed his 659th career home run to tie Babe Ruth's record of most homers with one organization.

Upon catching that portion of Ruth's monumental record with the New York Yankees, Aaron was asked if he considered himself lucky to be with the Braves all his major league life.

"No," he quipped. "I consider them lucky."

All-star black team is chosen

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Five men who never swung a bat in the major leagues rate positions on baseball's all-black team scribbled on a napkin by Jackie Robinson, the player who broke the sports' color line.

"Cool Papa Bell was one of the greatest outfielders ever to play the game," said the graying ex-Brooklyn Dodger, who was given a testimonial luncheon Wednesday by the Virgin Islands Government.

"He could have made any team in the majors—a fine hitter, a fast, smart outfielder. I would rate him right up there with Willie Mays and Hank Aaron."

Here's the all-black team chosen by Robinson while he was being extolled by baseball friends, business associates and special representatives of both President Nixon and Governor Rockefeller:

Infield—Buck Leonard, 1b; Marvin Wright, 2b; Willie Wells, ss; Hank Thompson, 3b.

Outfield—Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Cool Papa Bell.

Catchers—Josh Gibson, Roy Campanella.

Pitchers—Satchel Paige, Don Newcombe.

Manager—Jim Gilliam.

"Baseball long ago should have had a black manager in the big leagues," Robinson said. "It would give black kids in the ghettos someone to look up to and serve as an example."

"My choice is Gilliam. He has proved, as a player and a coach, that he has all the requirements."

Of Robinson's all-star black team, Gibson, Leonard, Wright, Wells and Bell never made it to the major leagues. Paige was well past his prime and later voted into the Hall of Fame.

The five kicked around in the Negro National Leagues, where Robinson was discovered by Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers as a member of the Kansas City Monarchs in 1945. They played with such teams as the Homestead Greys of Pittsburgh, the Lincoln Giants and Baltimore.

"They were all terrific ball players," insisted Robinson. "Gibson was one of the best catchers who ever lived. Leonard was outstanding between 1951 and 1957. Wells and Wright both were flashy infielders with loads of ability."

There was one glaring omission from the team—that of Jackie Robinson, all-around athlete, fierce competitor, Hall of Famer, precedent setter as the first black man to play in the major leagues.

Sheridan loses tourney bid

Malvern 13-14 year old All Stars advanced easily in the District 3 Babe Ruth Tournament being played at Legion Field by overpowering the Sheridan 13-14 year old, 18 to 1.

West was the winning pitcher giving up one run on no hits. Thomason was charged with the loss for Sheridan. The Malvern 13-14 team will advance to the finals to be played Friday night against the Hope 13-14 year old All-Stars.

In the second game of the night, the Texarkana 15 year olds eliminated the Sheridan Team from the double elimination tourney by a score of 6 to 0. Texarkana scored six unearned runs for the victory. Shimmonds was the winning pitcher going the route allowing no runs on four hits. Graham was the losing pitcher giving up only two hits.

This win advanced the Texarkana team in the loser bracket and they will face the Clark County All-Stars Thursday night at 8:30 p.m.

The first contest Thursday night will pit the only two unbeaten teams left in the tourney, Hope and Malvern. This game will begin at 6 p.m. with the winner advancing to the finals Saturday night.

Outflanked troops hit back at VC

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces battled a North Vietnamese battalion of 200 to 300 troops today that outflanked the forces closing in on Quang Tri City.

The fighting was just south of the My Chanh defense line, about 10 miles south of Quang Tri and 20 miles above Hue. The attack threatened Highway 1, less than a mile to the west.

The South Vietnamese turned their tank guns on the North Vietnamese force, and U.S. F4 Phantoms swooped down with bombs. The North Vietnamese slammed mortars into the South Vietnamese infantrymen.

The fighting was continuing at midday, and no firm casualty figures were available.

Col. Le Ba Khien, a South Vietnamese regimental commander, said he believed an entire North Vietnamese regiment numbering up to 1,000 troops had moved south below My Chanh in an attempt to cut the north-south Highway behind the task force at Quang Tri.

In Quang Tri, meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers advanced to within 50 yards of the Citadel despite a counter-attack by North Vietnamese infantry and tanks. But informants said there would be no attempt to storm the walled fortress until more government troops reach forward positions and more North Vietnamese

Fire hazards found at UA center at LR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Extreme fire hazards" and "gross negligence" have been found at the University of Arkansas Medical Center here by the Little Rock Fire Department.

Fire Marshal Warren K. Cummings said in a report that unless the center took immediate action to correct the hazards it was "useless for this department to continue making inspections of this institution."

He said the department had been inspecting the center since 1962 and "the conditions have become progressively worse."

The state Health Department is now conducting its own fire inspection to determine if the center can meet requirements of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to care for Medicaid and Medicare patients.

Knowledgeable sources estimated that it would cost the university at least $3 million to meet minimum fire safety codes.

Cummings and Fire Chief Jack D. Davis said the university had made progress since the inspection report was issued Feb. 14.

Cummings made 11 general recommendations to the center that were necessary to comply with city and fire codes. In the report, Cummings ordered that all corridors be cleared of storage and kept cleared. There were numerous instances of storage in the corridors. The report said that room B162 was "found in a deplorable condition." Many kinds of combustibles, such as doors, paper, carpet, rubber belts, boxes, etc., were found stored, Cummings said. "This condition was found and reported in the 1970 report with no changes made," he said.

Emergency funds for program

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers dipped into his emergency fund Wednesday to supplement appropriations for the adult basic education program.

The program is supervised by the state Education Department.

The governor said that the state was receiving about 6,200 applications a year for the basic education courses for adults but that funds permitting only about half of them to enter the course.

tanks are knocked out.

In a delayed report, the U.S. Command disclosed that an explosion, apparently of a bomb that detonated prematurely in the air, knocked two U.S. Navy A7 bombers and an Air Force F4 fighter-bomber out of the skies on the northern front Monday. Three of the four fliers were rescued and one is missing, the command said.

In North Vietnam, U.S. Air Force jets beamed laser bombs into three air bases Wednesday and ranged to within 40 miles of the Chinese border to keep the northeast rail line inoperative, the U.S. Command reported.

Auditors suggest find ways to finance VN program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional auditors have suggested that Congress find new ways to bankroll the multibillion dollar Vietnam pacification program in order to exercise stricter controls over the funds.

The recommendation by the General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress, came after the agency reported finding loose controls and unreliable accounting.

The GAO Wednesday estimated the United States contributed 74 per cent of the total costs of pacification during fiscal years 1968 through 1971 through the administrative program known as CORDS (Civil Operations for Rural Development Support).

With the phasedown of activities in Vietnam and "in view of the lack of financial and program accountability and information on the use of materials and funds in the CORDS program," GAO said, Congress "may wish to re-examine the need to continue funding assistance to Vietnam under the military assistance service funded (MASF) system.

"By appropriating these funds as military assistance under the Foreign Assistance Act, the Congress would have more meaningful program and cost data on aid to Vietnam and could exercise more control over the ... assistance."

GAO said it found neither CORDS nor the Pentagon had developed a reporting system providing reliable information for budgeting funds needed for the programs or for measuring the aid already provided.

Estimates given Congress in quarterly reports for 1971 on the total MASF program for Vietnam "were about $400 million less than actual costs," GAO said.

CORDS estimated the cost of deliveries "to regional and popular forces, a major element of the CORDS activity, totaled $1.8 billion" for 1967 through 1971, GAO said, but "GAO believes that the actual costs were approximately $300 million—a 50 per cent difference."

No effective controls were set over commodities provided to war victims, GAO added, and large amounts of food spoiled, unneeded items were purchased and items were diverted to ineligible persons.

Bill defeat may be an issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unexpected defeat of a $5 billion emergency job-making bill may be seized by House Democrats as a campaign issue.

The bill, rushed to a vote by Democratic House leaders confident of victory, was killed Wednesday by a roll-call vote of 206-189.

It would have made available $5 billion in grants to states, communities and rural areas for public works projects, mainly water and sewage plants. Its sponsors said it would have created 500,000 construction jobs, many within 90 days of enactment.

Priority would have been given to economically depressed areas.

Teaming up to kill the bill were 148 Republicans and 58 Democrats. Voting for it were 165 Democrats and 24 Republicans.

The measure was doomed before that, however, by an amendment barring use of any of the money during a fiscal year in which the projected federal deficit exceeded $20 billion.

New mother is blind and sick

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Barbara LeQuire, 30, is blind, a diabetic, a kidney-transplant recipient—and a very proud new mother.

Mrs. LeQuire, whose husband also is blind, gave birth to a normal, healthy baby boy in May, confounding medical odds. A doctor said she was the first reported diabetic kidney transplant recipient ever to give birth.

"We call him our miracle baby," Mrs. LeQuire said at her suburban Brooklyn Park home.

Doctors told her seven years ago that they believed she could never become pregnant. Radiation treatment of her pituitary gland had been tried in a vain attempt to save the young woman's sight. The pituitary gland, doctors explained, sends out a number of hormones, including several involved in the reproduction process.

After losing vision in 1965, she received another shock four years later when doctors gave her only a couple of months to live. The diabetes which destroyed her vision also had destroyed her kidneys.

At that time diabetics were thought to have too many medical problems to be considered good candidates for either artificial kidney machines or kidney transplants.

However, University of Minnesota Hospitals and a few other centers were starting special programs to see whether, with special care, transplants might be possible for such persons. Mrs. LeQuire became the second diabetic at Minnesota to receive a successful kidney transplant. Her father donated one of his kidneys.

Dr. John S. Najarian, the University of Minnesota surgery chief, performed the kidney transplant operation Sept. 3, 1969.

Najarian said only a few dozen women throughout the world have had babies following transplants and Mrs. LeQuire is the first reported diabetic transplant recipient to do so.

Mrs. LeQuire said she has found it relatively easy to care for little John, named after Dr. Najarian.

New hitch in chess tourney

By JULIE FLINT
Associated Press Writer

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The Icelandic Chess Federation rejected a list of 13 demands from Bobby Fischer today, raising the possibility of a new hitch in the world chess championship match.

Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Soviet world champion, were scheduled to play their fifth game at 1 p.m. EDT today. The score is now 2½-1½ in Spassky's favor, the fourth match Tuesday having ended in a draw.

Gudmundur Thorarinsson, president of the host federation, said Fischer delivered his list of new demands Wednesday night. He said they had "not been met."

Thorarinsson said the American challenger, who is a late riser, was still asleep and had not been told of the refusal.

The Rev. William Lombardy, Fischer's second, said he could not say whether Thorarinsson's refusal would jeopardize the game today.

Although many of Fischer's demands were trivial, such as exclusive use of the swimming pool at his hotel, he also asked for "written authority to have film cameras removed from the playing hall" if they disturbed him.

Fischer objected during the first game to the three cameras that were to film the match for American promoter Chester Fox. He boycotted the second game because the chess federation would not order them removed. No filming was permitted for the third and fourth games, and Fox has said he would not let his contract for movie and TV rights jeopardize the match if Fischer persisted in his opposition.

Lothar Schmid, the West German referee of the match, said the organizers of the match would do all they could to meet the American's demands.

"But under the rules," Schmid added, "if he had objections, he had to present them to me within six hours after the last game. He did not do this."

USSR has different ouster story

By ROGER LEDDINGTON

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government says the military personnel it sent to Egypt have completed their assignments and that is the reason they are coming home.

A statement by the government news agency Tass Wednesday night was the first disclosure to the Soviet people of something President Anwar Sadat of Egypt announced 24 hours before. But while Sadat made clear that he had told Moscow to get its military advisers out of Egypt because the Kremlin hadn't given him more advanced offensive weapons to use against Israel, the Soviet statement gave no hint of this.

Tass said a "number of Soviet military personnel" had been in Egypt at the request of the Cairo government, and they have finished teaching the Egyptians how to "master Soviet military equipment."

"Now the Soviet military personnel in the Arab Republic of Egypt have completed their functions," the news agency said. "With the awareness of this, after an exchange of opinions, the sides deemed it expedient to bring back to the Soviet Union the military personnel that had been sent to the Arab Republic of Egypt for a limited period."

Tass said the advisers had been on temporary assignments

Like Sadat's announcement, the Soviet statement gave no indication of the number of Russian personnel who are leaving Egypt and the number who will remain. Sources in Cairo estimated that 10,000 to 20,000 military advisers would go, but nearly as many civilian advisers and experts would remain to help ensure Egypt's "defense potential in the face of Israeli aggression."

"Both sides have many times expressed their satisfaction with the effectiveness of such measures," Tass said, adding that Moscow "plans to continue developing and strengthening in every way its relations" with Egypt.

In Beirut, a key observation post for the Arab world, Sadat's expulsion of the Russians was generally regarded as a blow to Soviet prestige.

At the United Nations, the most common reaction was that Sadat's action gave the United States a big chance to regain lost influence in Egypt. Some diplomats predicted a joint reduction of U.S. arms shipments to Israel and Soviet arms shipments to Egypt.

British authorities reported in London that Egypt is already checking prospects of buying offensive as well as defensive arms from Britain, including aircraft and warships.

Clark named band director

William Clark, a native of Hope has been appointed Band Director at Delta State College.

Clark, 33, who assumed his duties July 1, has served the past two years as graduate assistant at the University of Southern Mississippi where he is completing work on his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Clark attended school at Prescott. He received the Bachelor of Music Education degree from Henderson State in 1959 and the Master of Music Education degree from the University of Arkansas in 1960.

In 1961, he was named band director at Arkadelphia, and served 11 years in that position.

Clark and his wife Betty are the parents of two daughters.

WILLIAM CLARK

They are members of the Church of Christ, which Clark serves as a deacon.

Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Clark of Hope, formerly of Prescott. Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Erskin, Sr.

U.S. efforts in settlement are assailed by VC

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong today assailed U.S. efforts to get a military settlement of the Vietnam war without settling the political conflict over control of the government in Saigon.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, leader of the Viet Cong delegation, told the 151st session of the Vietnam peace talks that "the two aspects of the problem should be settled simultaneously."

Addressing the meeting a day after U.S. presidential adviser Henry Kissinger resumed secret talks with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, Mrs. Binh said:

"The U.S. side pretends to desire an end to its military 'participation' without dealing with the political aspect. This simply means that the United States still wants to maintain in South Vietnam the administration it has set up to implement the policy of 'Vietnamization' of the war. If so, the United States will never be able to put an end to its military 'participation.'"

Kissinger returned to Washington Wednesday night and reported to President Nixon on the session, the 14th he has held with North Vietnamese officials.

Although White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler gave no information about the closed-door discussions, there was no indication of any progress toward an agreement to end the war. But Ziegler's statement that "further meetings will be announced as they are held" was taken in Washington to indicate that Kissinger feels encouraged to hold more talks.

A further indication that agreement was not near came from Radio Havana, which reported that Mrs. Binh would arrive in Cuba this weekend for the anniversary celebration of the Castro revolution and stay six days.

Xuan Thuy, the chief of Hanoi's delegation in Paris, attended the meeting Wednesday between Kissinger and Tho, which lasted 8 1/2 hours.

It was the first between President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser and North Vietnamese leaders since the United States suspended the weekly, semipublic peace talks in early May. The weekly sessions resumed last Thursday and it is believed that the North Vietnamese refused to hold secret talks unless they did.

Small draft number for September

WASHINGTON (AP) — The smallest draft callup since April, 4,800 men, has been announced for September by the Selective Service.

The draft will extend to men with lottery numbers no higher than 75, the same ceiling as in August.

Acting draft director Byron V. Pepitone said Wednesday that sufficient men are available at number 75 and below. They include men classified as 1A and 1AO who recently lost deferments or whose initial postponements of induction expire during September.

Men with numbers through 100 are being ordered for pre-induction physical exams, although officials say the ceiling could remain at 75 through the year.

The September callup raises the total for the year to 35,900. The Defense Department has put its 1972 draft needs at 50,000. The Army is inducting all draftees.

Meanwhile, the Army Recruiting Command at Hampton, Va., said June was its best month for male enlistment in nearly three years, with 18,175 signing up. It is offering a $1,500 bonus for those agreeing to go into combat units for four years.

Police hunt for figures in Eboli case

NEW YORK (AP) — Police reportedly are hunting for underworld figures named to investigators by the chauffeur-bodyguard of Thomas "Tommy Ryan" Eboli, the Mafia leader shot to death on a Brooklyn street last Sunday.

While Eboli's body was borne to a cemetery Wednesday in a cortege of Cadillacs, intensive questioning of Joseph Sternfeld, 53, who drove Eboli to Brooklyn's Crown Heights section on the night of the slaying, was said to have revealed why Eboli went there and whom he planned to meet.

One investigator commented on the interrogation of Sternfeld: "He's starting to break. He's telling us more than he did before, but he still knows a lot more than he's telling. We believe he saw the killers and can identify them."

Sternfeld is detained under heavy guard as a material witness in lieu of $250,000 bail. Police said they were withholding names of the hunted gangland figures because they might flee the area.

Authorities said Eboli, 61, was in charge of the Mafia family formerly headed by Vito Genovese. Police said he may have been in Brooklyn — far from his accustomed Manhattan haunts and Fort Lee, N.J., residence — for a conference with other underworld chiefs.

Eboli reportedly was killed because he was trying to stop narcotics transactions in bars, restaurants and other spots where he had interests. Investigators indicated the drug dealers were young Italians who entered this country illegally to work for Eboli and other Mafia big shots, then decided to go into business on their own.

Eboli was the 15th gang victim since the June 28, 1971 wounding of reputed Mafia leader Joseph Colombo and founder of the Italian-American Civil Rights League.

Police kept close watch on mourners who showed up Wednesday at a funeral home in the Ozone Park section of Queens, where Eboli's body, dressed in a blue-gray business suit, lay in a bronze coffin surrounded by yellow roses and purple orchids.

There were many floral wreaths, but few were signed.

Police said the funeral was shunned by all New York's gangland notables, including Funzi Tieri, who is reported to be filling in the power vacuum left by Eboli's murder.

According to investigators, Tieri, 68, also known as Francois or the Frenchman, has long had warm relations with members of the alleged Mafia family of Carlo Gambino, now considered the most powerful figure in organized crime.

Blackouts affected big area

Blackouts and brownouts affected widespread areas of New York City, Rhode Island and parts of Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. But by early today electrical service was reported back to normal everywhere.

A severe thunderstorm was blamed for the interruption in service throughout New England, while already sweltering New Yorkers were cut off from service by feeder cables that quit.

Wednesday's power loss to 250,000 customers in Brooklyn was traced to four 27,000-volt feeder cables. Con Edison estimated, however, that only 100 of the 250,000 persons affected suffered a total blackout.

Elsewhere in the New York area, some 40,000 residents of the Riverdale section of the Bronx did without power for several hours Wednesday night, and 15,000 persons in Westchester County lost power from early in the afternoon until after 9 p.m.

The power failures in the New York area abetted the weather woes of city dwellers beset by 94-degree temperatures and the fourth consecutive day of a massive air inversion that has created the worst smog of the year.

Con Ed said it supplied a record 7,872,000 kilowatts of electricity between 3 and 4 p.m.

On Wednesday night, lightning during a thunderstorm knocked out two generator plants in Providence, R.I., blanking out most of the state for more than two hours.

During the outage, traffic tie-ups became a serious problem and several minor accidents were reported. At one intersection, David Hansen, 23, of Providence, stood in the rain and directed other motorists with a flashlight.

Nearly 40 communities in eastern Massachusetts reported power failures, and Boston Edison Co. reported that 11 major circuits had failed.

In Blackstone, Mass., a taxpayers group continued to debate a controversial local issue for 55 minutes after the lights went out in the town hall.

Parts of southern New Hampshire, including Nashua, Merrimack and Hudson, lost up to five hours of power because power lines were felled by high winds.

New York City's health commissioner, Joseph A. Cimino, said a spot check indicated a rise in deaths among persons suffering from respiratory or coronary ailments. He blamed it on the lingering mass of stagnant, polluted air over the city.

Before the storm, air pollution alerts were placed in effect over central Massachusetts and all of Connecticut.

Council puts off action

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — As the city council put off action Wednesday on a proposed ordinance to regulate protesters at the Republican National Convention, Mayor Chuck Hall disclosed he had received 100 letters praising his role in last week's peaceful Democratic National Convention.

The council decided to take no action on the ordinance proposed by Councilman Jerome Greene to regulate all activities in public parks from picnicking and skinnydipping to "indecent acts."

City Manager Clifford O'Key said he believed many provisions of the ordinance were unnecessary and overly restrictive.

During the council meeting, Ellis Rubin, head of a citizens group called Operation Backbone, said he wanted the city to order strict enforcement of the laws and the arrests of all who violated them.

Rubin claimed police took no action while demonstrators swam in the nude and openly smoked marijuana at their Flamingo Park campsite during the Democratic convention July 10-14.
